COPYRIGHT POLICY AND GUIDELINES FOR MCW LIBRARIES

COMPUTER SOFTWARE POLICY
Medical College of Wisconsin Libraries

Computer software is automatically protected by federal copyright law from the moment of its creation. "Computer Software" includes computer programs, instruction manuals and other written documents. Software is supplied by or through Medical College of Wisconsin Libraries and may be created on campus by faculty, students, or other university employees, or may be supplied commercially. In addition to the listed policies, MCW Libraries will adhere to the provisions of the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA). The MCW Libraries' Systems department is solely responsible for installing and removing software on public workstations in MCW Libraries.

1. MCW Libraries Systems Department will register software when applicable. The Systems department will retain licensing agreements, registration numbers and other necessary documentation.
2. Library Systems will make one archival copy of the software when appropriate.

According to the Copyright Act (Section 117):
Persons who purchase a copy of software have no right to make additional copies without the permission of the copyright owner, except for the rights to (i) copy the software onto a single computer and to (ii) make "another copy for archival purposes only."

3. MCW Libraries Cataloging Department will catalog the software when applicable.
4. Generally, a current version of the software and the most recent outdated version will be retained.
5. Library Systems staff will place a notice of copyright on each computer in the library.
6. Any unauthorized fields and/or programs installed on any library workstations will be removed by MCW Libraries Systems staff.
7. When removal of software is necessary, MCW Libraries Systems staff will uninstall the software.
8. Library Systems staff will notify the MCW Libraries Cataloging department so necessary changes can be made to the online catalog.
9. Any software placed on reserve must be accompanied with a completed Reserve Agreement Form, a copy of the license and all other necessary documentation.
10. After software has been removed from the collection, computer manuals, original diskettes, and/or compact disks will be either 1) destroyed or 2) returned to the software vendor depending on the site licensing agreement.
11. Any person or persons tampering or hacking with library computers are subject to provisions in MCW’s “Software Policy” and the “Appropriate Use of MCW Computer Facilities, Networks, and Software Policy.”
